INSURGENTS CLAIM TO BE WITHIN ELEVEN MILES OF MADRID

Baron Franz von Papen, German Minister to Austria, above, has been appointed Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary in a Special Mission by Herr Hitler, for "conspicuously successful service rendered in connection with the Austro-German agreement signed on July 11."

INDEPENDENT GOVT. IN KWANGSI

TO BE ESTABLISHED IN NANNING TO-DAY

GENERAL ATTACK BY NANKING DECLARED PENDING

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.

The independent Government in Kwangsi will be set up to-day in Nanning, the provincial capital, with General Li Chung-jen or General Li Chai-sum as Chairman. Actual military power is in the hands of General Pai Hsueh-shi, who engineered the present movement.

Kwangsi rift-rafs are reported to have reached Tushing in Western Kwangtung, and many shops and homes have been looted by the vanguard.

About 13 Nanking divisions are entering Kwangtung from the north and east for the protection of the province. The defence has been strengthened by the arrival of three squadrons of Nanking bombers.

As soon as a new Government is proclaimed in Kwangsi, the Nanking forces will launch a general attack on the insurgent Government. Members of that regime, it is learned, include Generals Chen Chi-tang, Chen Wai-chow, Li Yang-ching, and Messrs. Liu Lu-yin, Lam Yick-chung and Ou Fang-pu.

The British gunboats H.M.S. Moth and Seaweed are at Wuchow ready to evacuate British nationals. The U.S. gunboat Mindanao will arrive at Wuchow some time to-day to take care of American missionaries.

The Wuchow Customs attempted to hold up a shipment of banknotes to the value of $80,000,000, but the military forcibly took delivery.

MILITARISATION OF RHINELAND

Numbers Of Troops To Be Increased

Berlin, To-day.

It is officially stated that increases in the number of German troops in the Rhineland are to be made gradually. The step follows the lapse at midnight of the four months' period in which Herr Hitler promised to refrain from sending more troops.

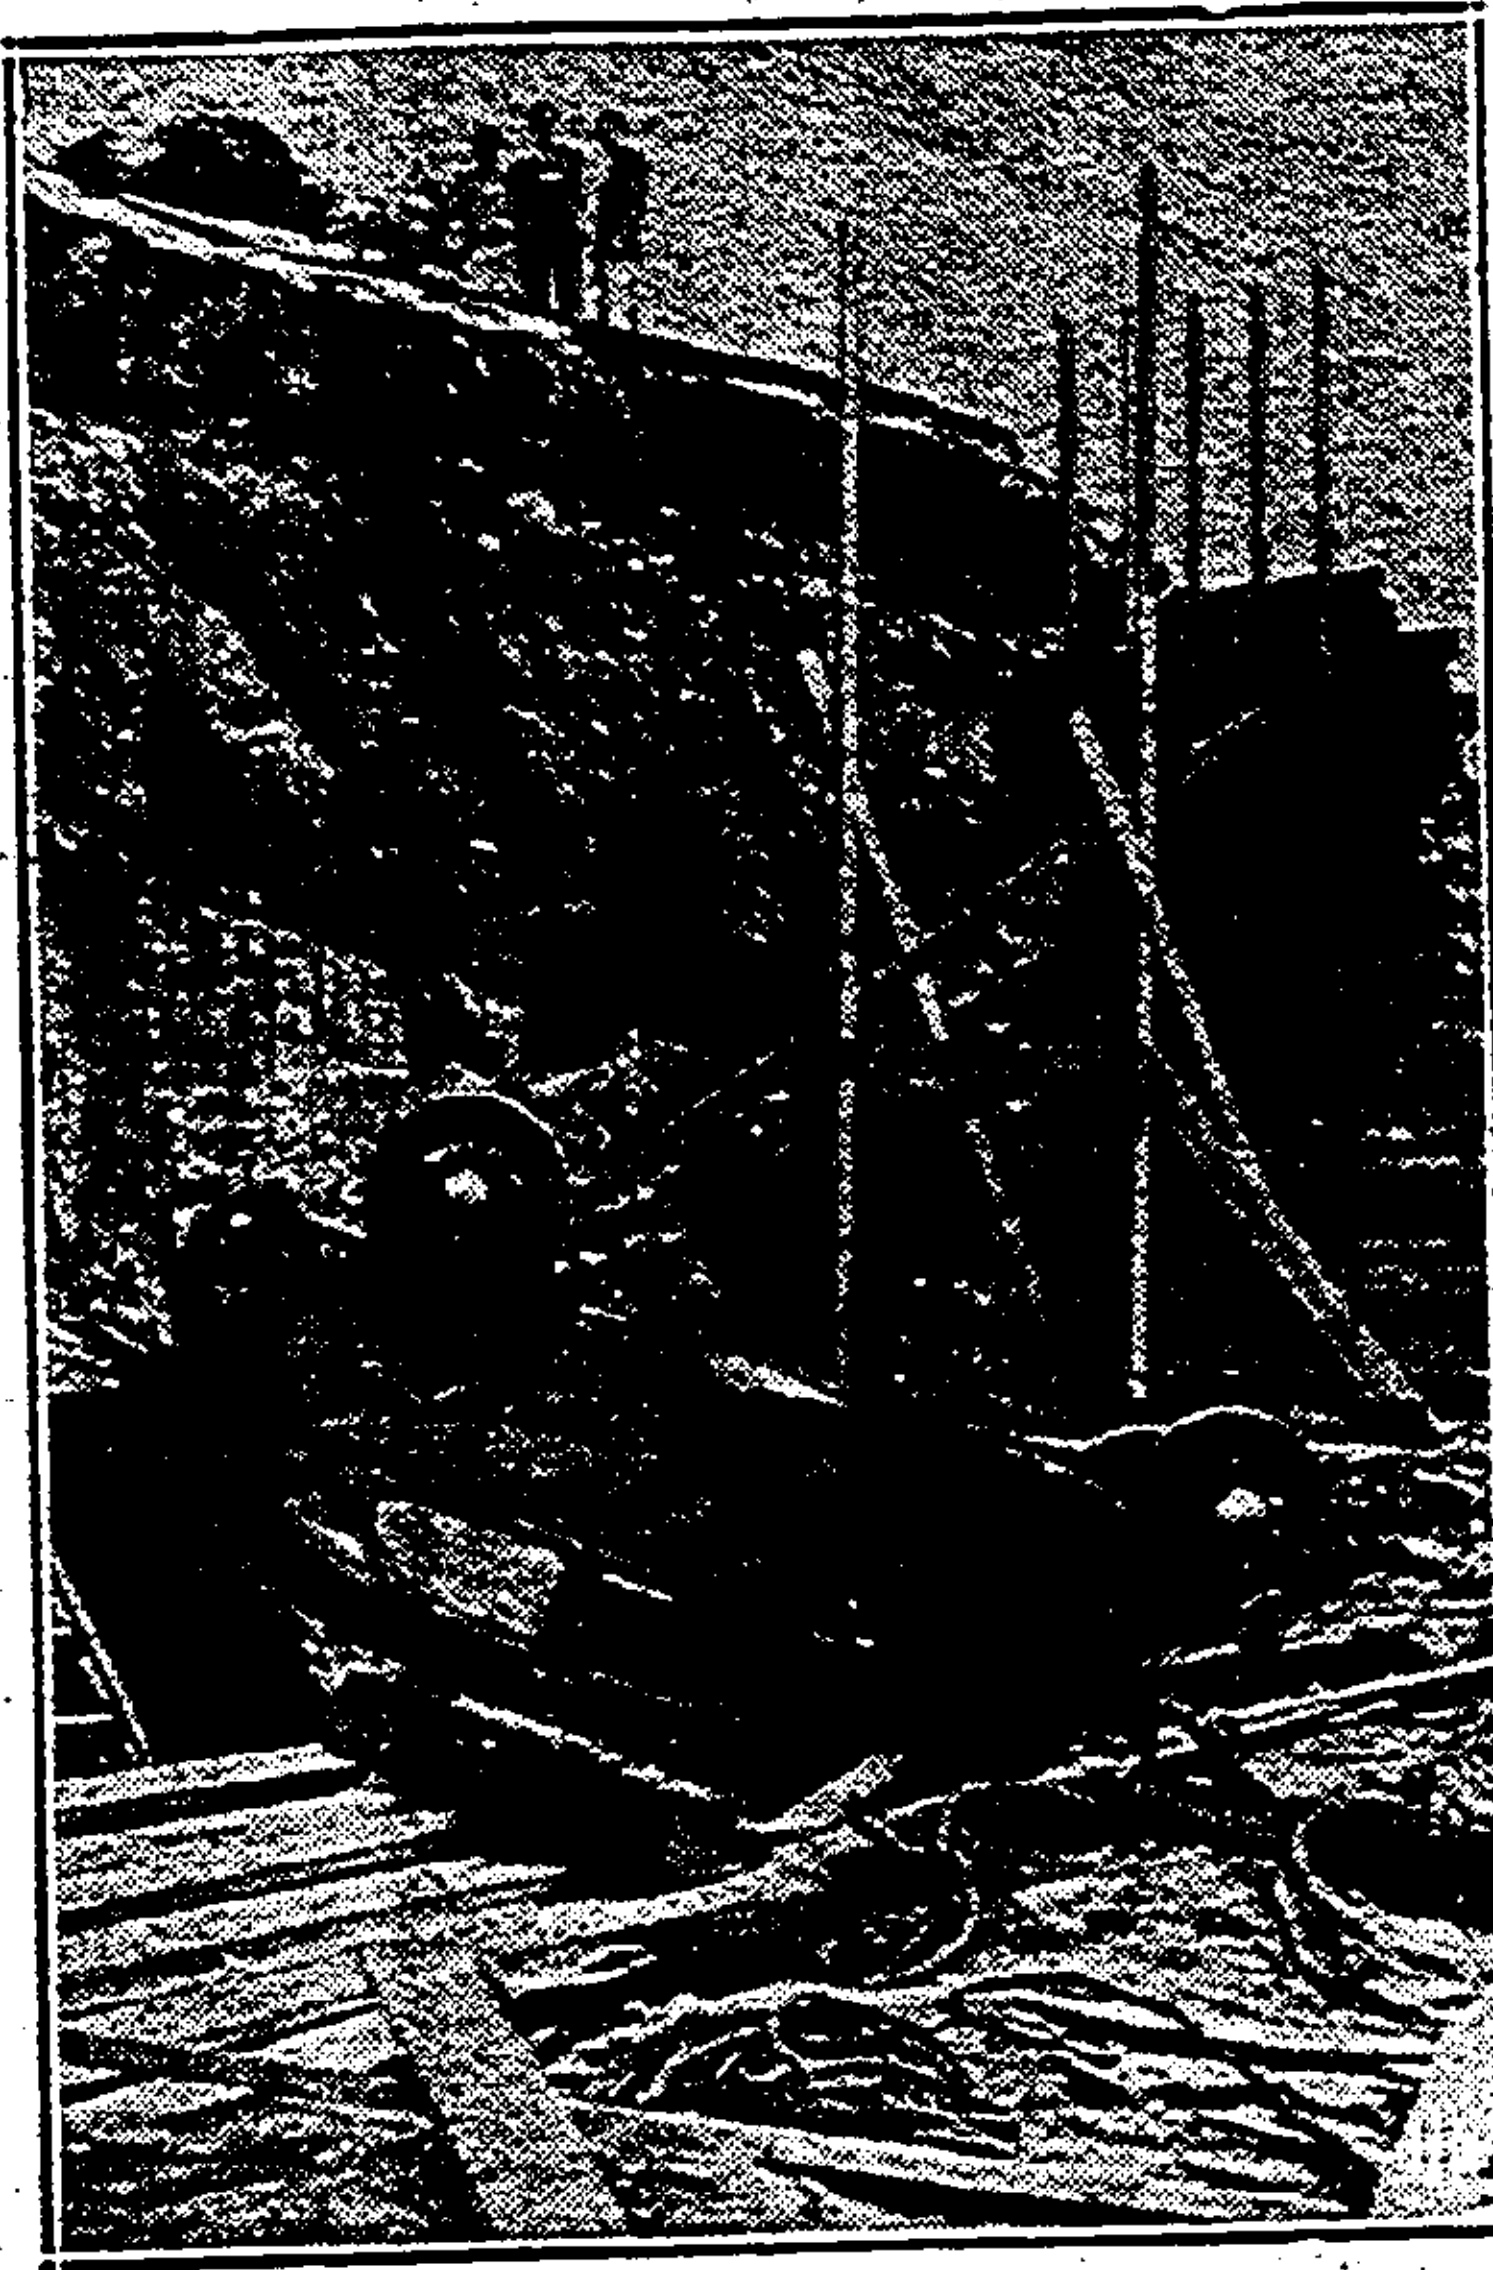

While no precipitate steps are planned for this week-end it is the intention to increase the forces as occasion demands and circumstances permit. There is apparently no intention of stationing troops any closer to the French frontier than at present.

pass very close indeed to the Colony, if not actually making a direct hit.

No. 7 signal is still up.

WEATHER REPORT

The local forecast for to-day, as issued by the Royal Observatory this morning, is north-west and south-west winds, fresh to strong, probably increasing to a gale, cloudy generally, rain later.

Incredible but true. Charles Erb, his wife and grandson were in this wrecked sedan when it was pushed over a 30-foot embankment by a New York city sprinkler truck last month. They opened the doors to walk out only slightly injured as rescuers rushed to their aid!

OLYMPIC TORCH

German Frontier Crossed At Noon Yesterday

Berlin, To-day.

The Olympic Torch crossed the German frontier at noon yesterday. It is expected to arrive at noon to-day at the Olympic Village, when it signals the beginning of the Olympic Games. — Reuter's Bulletin Service.

KING'S VISIT TO SOUTHAMPTON

Thorough Examination Of Yacht "Mahlin"

London, To-day.

H.M. the King drove in a royal car to Southampton Docks yesterday, afternoon on a surprise visit of inspection of the yacht Nahlin. The quayside was practically deserted when he arrived. He remained aboard for 90 minutes and saw every nook and cranny, conducted by Paymaster-Captain Doyle.

Afterwards he expressed delight at the arrangements for the cruise, and cordially shook hands with the Captain and members of the crew. A large crowd which had collected in the meanwhile at the dock gate cheered His Majesty's departure. — Reuter.

NEW LOCARNO CONFERENCE

Italy Prepared To Participate

GERMANY ALSO WILLING

Rome, To-day.

The Italian Government will in principle be glad to participate in a conference of the five Locarno Powers on a date to be settled, stated the Foreign Minister, Count Ciano, to the French Ambassador and the British and Belgian Charges d'Affaires yesterday.

He added that the Italian Government thought it would be useful that the conference should be properly prepared by an exchange of views through the ordinary diplomatic channels, in the interests of the lofty aims of the conference itself. Count Ciano informed the German Ambassador of this communication.

Berlin: The Foreign Minister, Baron von Neurath, informed the British and French Ambassadors and the Belgian Minister that Germany accepted the invitation to a five-Power Locarno conference, and particularly pointed out that the discussion needed careful diplomatic preparation in every respect, especially as regarded the programme. — Reuter.

STOP PRESS

Rumours Unconfirmed

The Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Colonial Secretary, stated this morning that he knew nothing of the alleged arrival in the Colony to-day of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

As the Generalissimo usually travels in his own private plane it is thought that he would have gone direct to Canton.

Chief Detective Inspector Murphy stated that he had heard nothing about it.

NEW MOBILISATION ORDER BY GOVT.

FLYING BOAT DISABLED NEAR GIBRALTAR

REBELS NOW MASSING FOR MAJOR ATTACK ON SAN SEBASTIAN

London, To-day.

While the Spanish insurgents claim to have reached a point only 11 miles from Madrid, the Government claims that the insurgents were routed 35 miles west of Madrid, losing 63 dead, a number of prisoners and a large quantity of war material. The Government has decreed the immediate mobilisation of the men of the 1935 class now on leave and the men of the 1934 class in reserve in Catalonia and the Eastern seaboard provinces.

A number of persons, believed to be foreigners, have been arrested in Madrid on a charge of spreading false reports, alleging that the foreign Embassies were leaving Madrid and that the garrison at Valencia had revolted.

The insurgents are said to be massing thousands of troops for a big attack on San Sebastian. Rabat reports that 14 aeroplanes, of the same type as the Italian plane which crashed in Algeria on Thursday, have landed near Melilla.

Gibraltar reports that a Spanish Government flying-boat which bombed Algiers yesterday morning, narrowly missing the British Consulate, was disabled by insurgent gunfire and compelled to land in British waters at Gibraltar. The crew of three were brought ashore in a launch.

Rome: The Government is enquiring into the reported crash of Italian planes in Algeria on Thursday. Official circles point out that the Italian Government is not supplying planes or arms to the contending forces in Spain, and if any have been supplied, it was purely a private transaction. — Reuter.

PALMA BOMBED
Washington: A radio message from the captain of an American liner reports that Palma, Majorca, was bombed from the air just after he had evacuated 92 foreigners. — Reuter's Bulletin Service.

Fierce Fighting For Madrid

BRITISH COLONY EVACUATED

Madrid: The fierce fighting in defence of the capital continues. The Government claims to have captured Villanueva and Delaserna, which, when in the hands of the rebels, cut off communications between Madrid and Badajoz. Oviedo is still in the hands of the rebels, being heavily bombed by a miners' battalion.

Practically the entire British colony has been evacuated from Madrid to Valencia, where H.M.S. Devonshire will pick them up and convey them to Marseilles.

BADAJEZ FALLS?
Lisbon: It is reported that members of the Foreign Legion have captured Badajoz from the Government troops. The insurgents claim to have stormed the Communist barracks in the Guadarrama Mountains near Madrid and to have killed 40 people and seized 30 machine-guns. — Reuter.

SMALL ITALIAN LOSSES

Rome, To-day. — The Italian losses in repudiating the recent attack on Addis Ababa by the Abyssinian insurgents were only slight, according to reports here. The rebels were commanded by Ras Imru, but took to their heels when the Italian bombing planes went into action. — Trans-Ocean Service.

DEFENCE OF EMPIRE

Communications A Vital Part

CONFERENCE PENDING

London, To-day.

Emphasising that empire telegraphic communications constituted an essential part of the defence problem, in the course of an address to the Bristol Summer School of the Royal Empire Society, Mr. Wilshaw, Chairman of Cable and Wireless Ltd., announced that Sir Campbell Stuart would preside over a committee which would consider the whole problem.

He pointed out that hitherto the British Empire had predominated in the matter of world communications, but the position was being seriously challenged and there was a grave danger of these communications becoming wholly uneconomic. The Governments of the Empire, however, had agreed that a committee consisting of representatives of the Dominions and Colonies should examine the matter. He was confident that a satisfactory solution would be found. — Reuter.

NEXT OLYMPIC GAMES TO BE HELD AT TOKYO

Berlin, to-day.—Tokyo has been awarded the 1940 Olympic Games. — Reuter.

MERCER 10 FOR 51

Best Bowling Feat Of Season

LARWOOD AND TATE IN GOOD FORM

London, To-day.

The honour of being the first bowler to take all 10 wickets in an innings in a first class match this season has fallen to Jack Mercer, the veteran Glamorgan player, who conceded only 51 runs when he performed this amazing feat against Worcester in their mid-week county championship match which resulted in Glamorgan winning on the first innings.

The nearest approach to this is Verity's 9 for 12 against Kent, at Sheffield, towards the end of May, and though the same bowler again took 9 wickets, for 48 runs, when playing against Essex at Westcliff on June 17, the honour of claiming all the wickets has so far evaded him this season.

Larwood and Tate, both former England bowlers, were in fine form with the ball, and Ashdown was the only player, other than Sutcliffe, to run into three figures, though Timms was only three short of the century when his side's innings came to a close.

Results, as cabled by Reuter, were as follows:—

At Worcester: Glamorgan took first innings points from the home county. Worcester: 143 (Mercer 10 for 51) and 163 for 5 dec. Glamorgan: 151 and 56 for 4.

At Nottingham, Kent took first innings points from Notts. Kent: 415 (Ashdown 101; Chalk 88) and 143 (Larwood 6 for 64). Notts: 203 (Hardestaff 78) and 181 for 9 (Wright 6 for 12).

At Hove, Sussex took first innings points from Northamptonshire. Northants: 189 (Timms 97 not out; Tate 5 for 60) and 105 for 5. Sussex: 231 (Partridge 7 for 78). (Continued On Page 10)

FINE IMPOSED ON GAZA

Expressly Refuted By High Court

Jerusalem, To-day.

The High Court has refuted the collective fine of £5,000 imposed on Gaza, on the ground that the neighbouring railway and telephone communications were cut. The Chief Justice emphasised that the High Commissioner exceeded his authority in enacting collective fines. — Reuter's Bulletin Service.

China's Athletes In Form

Berlin, To-day.

The 72 active members of the Chinese Olympic team are in fine trim on the eve of the Games, although the cool, unsettled weather that has prevailed during the last few days has prevented them from showing their best form. The temperature during the last few days has been so low that the bungalows where the Chinese team are housed have had to be heated.

The Chinese team have not been favoured by luck in the draw for the handball and football competitions, since in the handball contest they will meet such dangerous competitors as Japan, already in the very first line, while at football the Chinese team will face the representatives of the motherland of football, England.

The Swimming group has undergone strenuous training in the swimming stadium and, according to competent observers, showed excellent form. — Trans-Ocean Service.

BLENHEIM SALE CRITICISED

FAMOUS BREEDERS' OPINIONS

THE Earl of Ellesmere endorsed the views expressed by Major Gerald Deane on the sale to America of the Aga Khan's 1930 Derby winner, Blenheim.

Major Deane had drawn attention to the plight of breeders who had booked nominations to Blenheim for 1937 and 1938, and who would now be hard pressed to find another suitable stallion.

Lord Ellesmere said:

"I should like to endorse Major Deane's remarks. I am extremely sorry for the breeders who have booked nominations to Blenheim, and I consider myself fortunate that I am not one of them."

Lord Glanely's View

Lord Glanely, another of England's biggest breeders of bloodstock, said:

"The owner is protected, and can please himself. There may be special circumstances for selling, but morally he should carry out the booked obligations. When I purchased Solario for a syndicate, of which I think, Blenheim's owner was the largest subscriber, this point was made definite, that Solario should carry out all booked engagements for the ensuing season. The horse was sold accordingly."

Mr. Scrope's Opinion

Mr. Adrian Scrope, manager of the famous Sledmere Stud, at Malton, Yorks, said:

"Many subscribers to Blenheim will have read of his sale with amazement, this being in some, if not all, cases the first notification they have received of it."

"Since, as Major Deane emphasises in his statement, the Aga Khan, owing to the terms of the contract, is perfectly entitled to sell, the point raised by this sale appears to be whether it is advisable for breeders to book nominations far in advance without demanding a greater safeguard of their interests."

"This, of course, applies with even greater force in the case of a young and untried stallion taking up stud duties."

Colony Sportsman Leaves

The Colony lost a fine all-round sportsman last Tuesday, when L. A. Oppenheim, B.Sc., left the Colony for Shanghai on transfer. He is working for Messrs. Palmer and Turner.

Oppenheim was a member of the Kowloon Cricket Club's "B" Division team during last season and also played for their "B" team in the Mixed Doubles League, partnering Mrs. W. Knight, who has since left for Home.

HARBOUR SWIM AS MAIN FEATURE

CLASH OF GALA DATES BY CHINESE CLUBS

INTERESTING "Y" CARNIVAL COMING

(By "CRAWL")

THERE were several interesting events in the local swimming world during the past week, the most important being, of course, the Cross-Harbour Swim organised by the Chinese Bathing Club at North Point last Sunday afternoon, and which was won by that splendid little performer from the Chinese Civil Servants' Club, Mak Wai-ming.

The day itself was one of the most miserable I have experienced for harbour swims, although the sea was by no means choppy. Where the swimmers were handicapped, however, was in crossing the treacherous belt of current running two or three hundred yards from the finishing line, and several of the swimmers were carried well below the Taikoo Sugar Refinery. G. Magnus and W. Stoker, the European "Y" entrants, found themselves opposite the Assama Maru, when they gave up a losing battle.

One of the most pleasing features of the swim was the entrance of several lady swimmers from the Victoria Recreation Club, Miss V. Thirwell, who is one of the Club's fastest ladies, winning in fairly good time. There was a large gathering of Chinese stars including Miss Rose Sum (C.B.C.), who came in second. Miss Yeung Sau-chun, who would have commenced favourite had she started, failed to make an appearance and so disappointed her many supporters.

It has not been the practice in former years for the Chinese Clubs at North Point to arrange swimming galas on the same night, and whenever possible this has always been avoided. The Chinese Bathing Club had arranged their gala last Wednesday night a fortnight previously, and it was most unfortunate that South China should also hold a gala against some visitors from Canton.

Supporters Disappointed There are many Chinese in the Colony who are members of both clubs and they would have liked to have witnessed both galas, but this was hardly possible last Wednesday.

Norman Lee was again the outstanding figure for South China against the Canton visitors and swam in their own "Invitation Relay".

Interesting Gala Coming

A very interesting swimming gala will probably take place in the European Y.M.C.A. swimming pool on August 26, when the "Y" will entertain the formidable Mak Ngah Association from Canton, including such China National champions as Kwok Chung-hang (breast-stroke and free style), Chun Ki-chung (free-style and back-stroke) and Shek Kam-pui (free style).

The East Lancashire Regiment and the Royal Engineers and Chinese "Y" will also be invited. Although the pool can hold four teams comfortably, five teams have been known to get through several events at a pinch, and the only blunders that are likely to occur are at the turns.

MISS YEUNG SAU KING GIVEN OVATION

A recent message from Berlin states that on the arrival of the Chinese Olympic team of athletes and swimmers, Miss Yeung Sau-king, sensational mermaid from Canton, received what almost amounted to an ovation when she stepped from the train in a striking but simple Chinese dress, and was given a bouquet of flowers.

carried off the individual honours. South China unfortunately have few swimmers who come within striking distance of Norman Lee, and as a result he was left to bear the brunt of the visitors' challenge.

Canton Star Shines

Ng Kit-man, Canton's star turn, was in fine fettle and, although the South China second string in the 400 Metres stopped after six lengths for a "breather," the Canton swimmer's triumph for second place was well-deserved as the third man went all out to "kill him" before half the distance.

Reverting back to the C.B.C. gala last Wednesday, hundreds of the spectators were disappointed at the inability of South China to enter a team of lady swimmers for the Open Relay. As it was, the C.B.C. ladies were compelled to

J. FRASER PLAYING FOR KOWLOON DOCK?

(By "SKIP")

There are several interesting League Lawn Bowls matches down for decision this afternoon, weather permitting, and the best of these will probably be that between Taikoo and the Civil Service Cricket Club at the Valley. This will also be Freddie Jones' last game in Hong Kong, as he leaves for Home next week for good.

It is strongly rumoured that Joe Fraser will be turning out for Kowloon Docks this afternoon against the Kowloon Bowling Green Club at Austin Road, and this should provide another interesting encounter.

VOLUNTEERS MEET TULSA TO-DAY

Americans Hoping For First Win

FOUR BALL GAMES THIS WEEK-END

Weather permitting, two good League baseball games will be witnessed to-day on the Causeway Bay ground when U.S.S. Tulsa meet the Volunteers and the Overseas Chinese clash with the Americans. The first game is timed to start at 2.30 p.m.

The Volunteers will receive their greatest test to-day and, in view of the remarkable progress that they have made so far, it will be interesting to see how they fare against an experienced sailor team. The Tulsa will be fielding their best side, with Fox and Porter constituting their battery.

Dingler, at first base, and Costello, at short-stop, are undoubtedly the outstanding players of the team, but Wood, at second, and Jolly, who covers third, are safe in the field, while they are also good at the bat.

With Fox pitching it is not expected that the outfielders, Helm, Krommenhoek and McAleer, will have much to do.

No Volunteer Changes

The Volunteers are not making any changes in their team and are hoping to give a good show. Whether or not, Bowen, their pitcher, will be able to hold the Tulsa to a close score is what is troubling them, but it is expected that Pereira will be brought in to pitch if things are not going too well with Bowen.

Following this game another good encounter will be seen when the Americans meet the Overseas Chinese, and here the Americans hope to register their first win of the season.

The Americans have displayed very inconsistent form this season and have not once looked like a winning team. One department or other seems to let them down in every game.

Formidable Infield

Thompson and Allen will be pitching and catching respectively for the Americans, and Hearther and Williams will be in their usual positions at first and third. The inclusion of Church, at second base, and of Mayhew, at short-stop, makes this infield, on paper, one of the best in the League, and if all play on form the Chinese will find it hard to get through.

The Chinese are not contemplating any changes in the team. They will start with W. Ching pitching and Fong catching. L. Ching will be at first base, and will probably pitch in to-morrow's game.

To-morrow's Games

To-morrow U.S.S. Tulsa meets the Japanese Young Men's Association, following which the Overseas Chinese will encounter Eastern.

The following are the probable line-ups for the week-end:
Japanese Y.M.A.: Yasuda (c.), Mikuni (p.), Takeda (1st b.), Kawamura (2nd b.), Maruyama (3rd b.), Yajima (4th), Amasaki (1st), Yama-saki (c.f.) and Nakamoto (r.f.).
U.S.S. Tulsa: Fox (p.), Porter (c.), Dingler (1st b.), Wood (2nd b.), Costello (a.s.), Jolly (3rd b.), Helm (1st), Krommenhoek (c.f.) and McAleer (r.f.).

Gorman Wins Diving From Gregson

LOSER'S BAD LUCK

(By "CRAWL")

Some splendid swimming was seen in the Y.M.C.A. Swimming Pool yesterday when "B" Coy. won the East Lancashire Regiment's Inter-Company Swimming championship.

The standard of swimming throughout was splendid and augurs well for the Battalion's chances in the Hong Kong Area Championships, which will be held in the "Y" pool in the near future.

The biggest surprise yesterday was in the Diving Championship, which was won by L/Cpl. Gorman, who beat Cpl. Gregson, the favourite, by 3 points. In all fairness to the latter it must be stated that he had just been discharged from hospital a week ago after a bout of influenza.

Among the interested spectators present were Lt.-Col. A. C. Marsh, the Commanding Officer, who later presented the prizes, and Major W. E. B. Dowling, Second-in-Command.

Results were:—

45-MILE SWIM IN 33 HOURS

Fifth Attempt Proves Successful

Los Angeles, July 26.

Paul Chotteru, a French swimmer, successfully completed the 45-mile swim from Santa Catalina Island to the Long Beach break-water at 2.50 p.m. to-day.

It was the fifth attempt the determined Frenchman had made to negotiate the long and difficult sea separating the island from the California coast. Previous efforts to swim the 45-mile expanse of water were frustrated by rough seas.

Chotteru swam the distance in 33 hours and 28 minutes. He was accompanied by two yachts and a dory from which he was supplied nourishment and water. —United Press.

Max Baer, above, former world heavyweight boxing champion, is seriously contemplating staging a comeback in the fist firmament.

MAX BAER OUT TO REGAIN HIS LOST LAURELS

May Meet Petersen In England

GIVES UP CROONING AND RETURNS TO RING

Sacramento, California.

July 20.
Max Baer, the former world's heavyweight champion, has given up his career as a crooner to come back to the ring.

Baer and his manager Ancil Hoffman have announced that they are leaving Baer's California ranch to start on an exhibition tour of the States of the West and South-west.

The tour will end in New York, where Hoffman will negotiate for a bout that will give Baer a chance to start his climb towards the title once more.

On Comeback Trial

It is no secret now that he hopes to rebuild the career that Joe Louis smashed in four rounds last September.

A Baer-Petersen match in London is one possibility. Negotiations are reported here to have been opened, but Baer and his manager are holding out for better terms.

G. RAMPLING STATES HE WILL RETIRE

WORLD'S GREATEST QUARTER-MILER

FEELS HE IS PAST HIS PRIME

London, June 23.

Great Britain will lose a very popular figure and notable performer when Godfrey Rampling retires at the end of this summer.

Rampling, one of the world's best quarter-mile runners, is now 28 and feels that his career on the track is closing, but before he leaves he will try to crown his successes with the 400 Metres event at Berlin.

One of Rampling's best feats was his victory in the British Games in 1934, when he set up an Empire record of 48 seconds.

Great Achievement

Despite the fact that illness had interfered with his training, he beat many contenders for inclusion in the British Olympic team in 1932 and went to Los Angeles, where he qualified for the second round of the 400 Metres and failed by the narrowest of margins to reach the final.

Rampling, who is a lieutenant in the Army, expects to play a lot of tennis, at which he is more than a useful player.

NEW CLAIMING RULE IN SELLING RACES CAUSE FOR JOCKEY CLUB'S ACTION

SMALL FEE FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES

London, July 3.

ALTERATIONS to the rule relating to the claiming of horses in selling races were passed at a meeting of the Jockey Club held at Newmarket on Wednesday.

Under the new conditions, every claim must be accompanied by a fee of £10, which is not returnable, and which will be paid to the credit of the Jockey Club for such charitable purposes as the stewards may direct.

Hitherto there have often been many claims for high-class horses beaten in selling races. As no owner can claim a horse belonging to himself, many of these claims have been put in by his friends with the sole purpose of preventing the horse from changing hands.

These claims were then determined by lot, and the bigger percentage of friendly claims there were the better chance the owner stood of retaining his horse.

Now that each claim will cost £10, it is expected that they will be considerably fewer.

ANOTHER OFFER TO FRED PERRY

WILLIAM O'BRIEN TRIES AGAIN

NON-COMMITTAL ANSWER BY CHAMPION

London, July 4.

Fred Perry won the men's singles championship at Wimbledon yesterday for the third year in succession. He defeated his German opponent, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Immediately the news of Perry's success reached America an offer to turn professional was cabled to him by Mr. William O'Brien, the sports promoter. The offer was said to be £10,000 for a four months' tour next year.

Asked last night if he would accept the offer, Perry replied: "I have not received the cable and cannot, therefore, discuss the matter."

Mr. O'Brien made a similar offer to him when he was in America last year for one year's play against Tilden, Vines and other professionals. Perry refused the offer, as he also did film offers for large sums.

Berlin, July 26.

The arrival here of Italian officials and sportsmen for the Olympic Games is awaited with great interest in Berlin. Crown Prince Umberto, of Piedmont, is said to have arrived already, but the report is unconfirmed officially. Apartments have been reserved for Princess Mafalda and her husband, Duke Philip of Hesse.

Vittorio and Bruno Mussolini, sons of Il Duce, will arrive as members of Italy's handball team, and Signor Morigi, Olympic shooting champion and assistant secretary of the Fascist Party, is also coming.—Havas.

PASSING OF KHOO

The China National Amateur Athletic Federation invited for the games Khoo from Singapore and Gordon Lum from Australia. These two represented their mother country for the first time in the tennis series, which were conducted along the lines of the present Davis Cup competition. In that year Khoo and Lum won for China the tennis title. That was the first and last time China capture that championship, for prior to that, and since, Japan has reigned supreme.

Supreme In Singapore

Prior to that Khoo was the leading player in Singapore. For many years running he was the singles champion, being head and shoulders above the best competition offered him there.

Among his most recent triumphs was the victory scored in the doubles at the National Games, held at the Civic Centre here last October. Partnered by Gordon Lum again, Khoo and his companion represented Shanghai, and won the title from China's leading aces.

For a long time China's outstanding player, Khoo had to be content with second place recently after the meteoric rise of Kho Sin-kie.

Loses Title At 36

Khoo was for many years Shanghai singles champion, losing the title to Lewis D. Carson, an American, in 1934. At that time Khoo had reached the mature age of 36.

But his ability with the racket was not his sole asset on the tennis court. Khoo was a clean player, a sportsman and a gentleman both on the court and off. His good nature, generosity in competition and appreciation of his opponent's efforts won even greater praise from his opponents than the spectators.—China Press.

While watching the C.B.C. events last Wednesday, my attention was attracted by the sight of several Chinese divers performing several excellent fancy dives off the three-metre board.

For Colony Championship

Among these was Wong Kwok-kit, the C.B.C. and Chung Shing champion, who, with a little more coaching, should easily qualify for a place among the first three in the Colony.

One of the outstanding features of these Chinese divers was the manner in which they persisted at a difficult dive until they had mastered the balance, approach, take-off, flight and entry.

Area Title Threat

The East Lancashire Regiment held their battalion swimming sports yesterday in the "Y" Pool and, judging by some of the performances, they are likely to constitute the strongest challenge for the Hong Kong Area title.

L/Cpl. McCarthy, L/Cpl. Gorman, Pte. Tunstall, Cpl. Fildes, Pte. Taylor, Cpl. Gregson, and Lieut. Genese are likely to do well.

For And Against Sanctions

The current issue (June 11) of the weekly edition of the London Times contains, besides a leading article on "The British Part" in the maintenance of world peace, a selection from the apparently voluminous correspondence addressed to that paper on the question of the continued application or not of sanctions. It is all very plausibly argued, but we cannot with honesty say that there is anything in the leader which impels us to change our opinion that the abandonment of sanctions is a retrograde step, promising untold trouble in the future. After examining how most of the nations of the world are on the side of peace, the paper goes on to remark: "If aggressive force were to challenge another world conflict, it would in time as it proceeded, compel a huge and effective concentration of resistance—and there will be little chance next time of exemption or escape for anyone." This seems to us to be absolutely begging the question. The point is not what, with divine guidance and the active co-operation of all the nations, will happen next time, but whether a declared aggressor, using all the most hideous forms of warfare against a defenceless people, should be allowed to gather the fruits of his unprovoked aggression this time. The Times further remarks: "A reformed system must come into being if civilisation is to survive." That is patently obvious. But surely there is some point in asking whether the best approach to the revision of the system is to allow the aggressor to reap whatever profits he can from his aggression, with the rest of the world simply standing by and looking on. What sort of precedent—except the very worst possible one—can that policy establish? To continue quoting from The Times leader: "But behind all this divergence about the immediate problem of Italy lies the old unmistakable determination to put an end, by some means or other, to the deliberate preference of war to peace, of aggression to negotiation, which has designedly shaped Signor Mussolini's Abyssinian policy." And how is it proposed to put that "unmistakable determination" to some good use?—by withdrawing an effective weapon—sanctions—just when its use is beginning to show some result; by failing to use the immense collective force available because one "senior partner" of the firm refuses to pull his weight. What seems to us to be so utterly deplorable about this vilely defeatist policy is the complacency with which a horrible crime against all the forces of civilisation, is contemplated. The thing is apparently to be simply ignored, and there is not one among the so-called civilised nations who will lift a finger to right a grievous wrong. All talk of what they propose to do next time; not one of them appears to contemplate doing anything this time.

And those promises of what will happen "next time" leave us absolutely cold. How many "next times" have there already been? What of Corfu, Man- alchuria and Abyssinia already? Is the inevitable reckoning—the civilised world cares a rap about retaining the things which it values—to be continually put off with promises of everything to be done "next time," for ever and a day? If a clash in defence of a civilised principle is to come at any time, here and now, in the face of a most flagrant betrayal of everything that it stands for, is the opportunity to put something more than facile talk to the test of action.

We are gratified to find that if we err in these opinions at all, we do so in distinguished company. The issue of The Times from which we have quoted contains letters from Mr. Wickham Steed and Sir Abe Bailey roundly condemning the proposed lifting of sanctions. The last-named remarks: "What are the admitted results of Signor Mussolini's substantial and spectacular successes? British prestige has suffered a serious blow throughout the world, particularly among the tribes and peoples of the East, and especially among the natives of Africa, always responsive to the achievements of force. . . . To remove sanctions provides no solution, but merely the respite which postpones the day of reckoning to a date chosen by Italy and not by us." Let us face facts and admit this. British policy has, for the first time for centuries, if not in British history altogether, abandoned a high moral stand and shown willingness—nay, eagerness—to condone a grave felony. With the best wish in the world that is not something of which the individual Briton can be proud.

EXPLANATION OF TO-DAYS CARTOON

The First Postmaster

FRANZ von Thurn and Taxis (1460-1517) is considered the founder of the post in a modern sense. A native of Bergamo, Italy (his Italian name Tassi means "dachshund") he was first appointed in 1500 "as captain and master of the posts" by Emperor Maximilian of Austria. As a result of this appointment Taxis ran the Netherlands mail for the Spanish King Philip the Fair. According to the terms of his appointment he was responsible with life and property for the safe delivery of the mails. His name is now commemorated in French on a Belgian stamp which is part of my cartoon. In 1867 the Government of Prussia bought back the mail contract from the Taxis descendants, paying them close to $10,000,000 for their Prussian rights.

NEW TAXATION Contemplated By Government

It is notified for general information that the Government has recently had under consideration the imposition of a special tax on vehicles equipped with engines using heavy oil or Diesel oil as fuel, and that such taxation will probably be on the lines of that in force in the Straits Settlements. It is not the Government's intention to impose the extra taxation in the immediate future, but notification of the intended policy is given in order that agents and purchasers of vehicles of this type may be aware of the position.

COURT MARTIAL SENTENCE

Soldier Dismissed The Service

A stabbing incident in which an Indian soldier wounded a comrade had its sequel at a District Court Martial held last week, when Lance-Naik Mohamed Akber was found guilty on two charges. Accused was charged with voluntarily causing grievous hurt to Lance-Naik Mir Zaman at 3 a.m. on June 12, and with stabbing him in the stomach. On the first charge he was sentenced to four months' imprisonment, and on the second charge he was dismissed from the service.

Both men were attached to the R.I.A.S.C., Hong Kong Mule Corps.

One case of enteric fever was reported to the local Health authorities during the 24 hours ended on Thursday.

TO BE BURIED AT HATFIELD

Lord William Cecil, the Bishop of Exeter, who died last month, always believed that he would live to exactly the same age as his father, the great Prime Minister. Lord Salisbury was just over 73 when he died. Lord William Cecil lived 73 years and 3 months. It is the normal custom for a bishop who dies in harness to be buried in his diocese. There is, however, a Cecil family vault in Hatfield Parish Church.

This was Lord William Cecil's cure for 20 years, and both his father and his mother are buried there.

In the choice of his burial place family tradition has proved stronger than episcopal usage.

CECILS DIVIDED ON SANCTIONS

The Bishop of Exeter was the only one of the five political Cecil's to be an active anti-sanctionist.

Though he made no speech in the House of Lords on the subject, as long ago as last December he wrote that he objected to sanctions on humanitarian grounds "because their incidence falls harshly on the poor, especially the children."

Lord Salisbury has not apparently made no public pronouncement.

Lord Cranborne, as Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has expounded the Government view, and Lord Cecil of Chelwood champions that of the Opposition. Lord Hugh Cecil, M.P. for Oxford, has not made any speech on the subject in the House. Recently, however, he criticised the Government's dropping of sanctions, which he considered to be "quite strong enough to achieve the failure of lawless nationalism."

The beauty of a radio news bulletin is that if you fail to catch part of it you can always get out the paper and see what it was.

His Choice
The young man had been looking through a collection of Christmas cards for some time, yet he seemed uncertain as to what he should buy. "Here's a lovely sentiment," said the lady assistant, helpfully. "To the only girl I ever loved." "Splendid!" he cried. "I'll take six of those, please."

PRICELESS VALUE OF FREE DISCUSSION

SAFEGUARD OF OTHER LIBERTIES

INDIVIDUAL VIEWPOINTS TESTED AND DEEPENED

(By Millicent Taylor)

WE were eight in number, seat-worth. It also pre-supposes that we met informally in the office; a subject or idea can be circumscribed or limited. The definitions, by the way, make use of words like obstinate, conceited, stiff. One cannot, to my mind, know a great deal about a subject and be opinionated concerning it—for the deeper one goes the more humility one has. True discussion cannot live where thought is opinionated. The opinionated one slams mental doors against the contributions of others, against the unfolding of any ideas that might come through a pooling of experiences.

A man I used to know once said regretfully that he had never had opportunities to learn to talk things over in a dispassionate way. To his embarrassment he would find himself upset at an exchange of opinion, and would sometimes even get angry. He claimed that he often mistook frank and open discussion for argument and dispute. Realising that he had missed one of the greatest privileges of thinking people, he set out to train himself to take part in discussion and to teach his children to take part in it.

Idea Evolves
Some time sit quiet in a group that is taking things over and watch the idea evolve. You will, I think, find it rather thrilling. Some people express themselves clearly; others need help. At times there is talk without an idea. However, among the qualities worth cultivating are tolerance, compassion, and patience (based on faith in good); and these qualities, so needed if group discussion is to arrive somewhere, can be tended, watered, brought to fruition in the Garden of Discussion.

At a meeting the other night one member of the group chanced to use a word to which several others in turn took exception. The ideas concerning it were contributed in a friendly and impersonal way, to be sure, but the member because of them might easily have felt at least like retiring in silence.

"Opinionated" thrives only upon underestimating another's mental

The current pictorial stamps of Nigeria will be among the last of the Georgian era, and in fact, there was some question whether, on account of the death of His Majesty King George V, whose likeness they bear, they would be put into circulation. Eventually it was decided that they should be released on February 1, 1936, as had originally been planned.

The genesis of the issue appears in Notice No. 743 published in the Government Gazette at Lagos in July, 1934, and which intimated that as consideration was to be given to a new issue of Nigerian postage and revenue stamps, designs by residents of Nigeria were invited for competition.

It was suggested in the notice that designs should depict views and scenes typical of the major industries of Nigeria. A space for a vignette portrait of His Majesty the King had to be included, and the words "Postage and Revenue" and "Nigeria" with the value of the stamp had to be included in the design.

The competition closed on August 31, 1934, but the prize awards were not announced until the following April. The successful entrants were Mrs. K. C. Cooper, of Ikoyi, and Mr. D. C. E. Tovey, of Buea (British Cameroons), for the best set of designs, and the best single design respectively.

The actual work of engraving the dies, preparing plates, and producing the stamps by copper-plate process was put into the hands of Thomas De La Rue and Co., Ltd., London. The stamps are printed in sheets of 60 in six rows of ten for the values in upright format, which is up to and including the 1s., and ten rows of six for the higher denominations in horizontal format.

The plates are numbered "1" throughout, but the stamps of right design are perforated 12 x 13 (comb), and the horizontal designs 14 (single line). The water-mark in all values is the "all-over" Crown and Script C.A.

New Zealand

It is stated that 14d. and 1d. stamps with H.M. King Edward VIII's portrait are to be issued as soon as possible. As in the case of the Jubilee, the choice of portrait is being left to the King, the N.Z. Postal Department merely submitting a frame for his approval. The stamps will be printed in London.

The "Anzac" stamps are issued in sheets of 48 stamps, but we are told that the printing plate contains 192 subjects in four panels, the printer's sheets being quartered before delivery to the postal authorities. Only one plate was made for each value.

Good-Natured Grin

Instead of that, when he next had occasion to use a specially chosen word, which was almost immediately, he introduced it with a whimsical comment and a broad good-natured grin that gave us all a good laugh. His injection of good-natured humour carried the meeting along on wings of song to a fine conclusion.

When I first jotted down some notes for this article, I was tempted to compare group discussion to a game of chess—where first a bishop, knights, until somebody comes along with a short cut like the red queen sweeping diagonally across the board to a checkmate. But immediately I saw that chess or any other game holds no analogy to true discussion. For in a game one tries, to "put something over," one tries to win with one's own plan. That is just where discussion, or any group unfolding is so often blocked. A pooling of individual experiences and viewpoints is not a putting through of anyone's plan.

Freedom Of Thought

Freedom of thought is instinct in it. Each member of the group is moved by a desire to serve, not to win. Perhaps the group will see what he sees. Perhaps they are not ready. Perhaps, instead, a

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

Messrs. Harriman's Weekly Report

Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:—

Quite a lot of enthusiasm was shown on the buying side in our market during the week under review and a large volume of business has been passing in investment and minor issues indicating great public confidence in our market. Philippine mining shares continued most active and considerable interest was taken in all issues with United Paracale marked up to $1.70, San Mauricio to $2.30; Demonstrations to $1.60 and Antamoks to $5.38. Itogons rose to $2.40 and I.N.L. to $3.20. Investment counters met with a good demand. Hong Kong Trams changed hands during the week at $12 but closed a shade easier with buyers at $11.60. Hong Kong Lands came to business at $33 1/2. Hong Kong Electric were the medium of a fairly large turnover at $52.52.60. Telephones (old) were dealt in at $26.60/80, the new shares were wanted at $8.90. Dairy Farms were sought for at $20 1/2. Wharves were put through at $99 in the middle of the week but closed with sellers at $98. Minor issues were active. Hotels changed at $5.10/5 1/2 closing easier at the former rate. Cements improved to $9.60 and Watsons to $3.60. Providents (old) after touching $1.75 eased off sharply and slipped to $1.45 closing with buyers at this rate. China Lights had sales at $12.15, but the demand has since slackened and they closed under this at $11.50 buyers. Sterling counters improved slightly with Hong Kong Banks in demand at around $15.90 and Unions at $547. The tone of the market at the close is very encouraging with a good undertone. NEW YORK SHARE MARKET

Rather Sharp Decline

ANTICIPATED FURTHER SELLING

Messrs. White, Weld and Company, New York Correspondents for Messrs. S. E. Levy and Company, report:—

"Stocks:—After early dullness, the market declined rather sharply at the close of the session. We anticipate further selling with moderately lower prices, but we do not anticipate any serious declines. Business done:—1,610,000 shares.

"Wheat:—A modern miller's report is decidedly bullish and confirms further deterioration in the Canadian North-West. Cash prices are fully following the trend of futures. Week-end profit-taking is a dampening influence. Total sales:—47,532,000 bushels.

"Cotton:—Traders are hesitant. There will be no releases of loan cotton before February. Demand is actually good and the lateness of the crop should accentuate any unfavourable weather conditions.

"Weather Forecast:—A forecast of weather conditions in the corn belt indicates rising temperatures to-day and to-morrow. All grains are expected to work higher.

"Flash:—The American Railway Association estimates carloadings for the past week at 731,000 cars, an increase of 135,000 cars from the corresponding period of last year.

symposium of ideas will prove the better way. Again an entirely different thought from any presented will evolve. Where no plan of action is desired, as in the case of friendly discussion over the dinner table, it is highly possible that no unity of thought may at that time result. The viewpoint of each has been tested and deepened, however, by the light thrown upon it through discussion. Macaulay once made a statement that I love. It is this: "The liberty of discussion is the great safeguard of all other liberties."

A. L. Sullivan, of the Insurance Company of North America, was fined $3 by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for parking his car, No. 3447, at Sai-gon Street at 11.05 p.m. on July 5, thus causing an obstruction. Pleading guilty, defendant said the car-park sign was obscured that night and he could not see which side he was allowed to put his car. It was just as easy for him to park his car on the proper side as on the wrong side.

A tour party of 19 members passed through Hong Kong yesterday on the President Hoover under the guidance of Professor E. B. Conant of Washington University, St. Louis. The majority of the members are schoolteachers on their summer vacation. Other members include Mr. Samuel Goldberg, department store owner of Detroit, E. Lee, one-time owner of a steamboat line on the Mississippi River, and Mr. Lee Jr., and Mr. Adolph Steuterman, well-known musician of Memphis.

SHANGHAI GIRL FLIER

Studying Aviation In America

READY TO FLY SOLO

Shanghai has, or will have in the near future, another aviatrix. She is Miss Ruth McCracken, 19-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken, of No. 5 Avenue Petain.

Miss McCracken is a student of aviation at Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio, where she is now in her junior year, and according to letters recently received in Shanghai by her parents, she is ready for her first solo flight.

Despite her youth, Miss McCracken has been a student of aviation for more than a year. She was a delegate at the National Inter-Collegiate Flying Conference held at Washington D.C., and was flown to the capital city from her university by Mr. Hugh Herndon, noted round-the-world flier. Another girl delegate made the trip with Miss McCracken.

Interested In Aviation
Miss McCracken left Shanghai in 1932 at the end of her junior year at the local American School. She finished high school at Atlantic City and from there entered Lake Erie College, a prominent school for girls. The school, it appears, gives a course in aviation, and she became interested in the subject soon after her entrance.

She is the only American girl from Shanghai, so far as is known, who has taken up the study of aviation.

£25,000 AIR SUBSIDY Plans For British Airways, Ltd.

Lord Swinton, the Secretary of State for Air, in a note issued last month, discusses the principal provision proposed to be embodied in an agreement with British Airways, Limited, for regular services for passengers, mail and freight between England, Holland, North Germany, and Scandinavia.

One proposal is the introduction, as from June 1, 1937, of a new type of aircraft, which will have a cruising speed in the neighbourhood of 200 miles per hour.

Another is the payment of a maximum subsidy at the rate of £25,000 per annum for the continuance of a temporary night mail service between London and Hanover.

Experimental Service

An experimental service has been in operation since February over the route London—Amsterdam—Hamburg—Copenhagen—Malmö. It is now proposed to extend this to Stockholm.

British Airways, Limited, will be required to co-operate with the Swedish company, A. B. Aero-transport, in establishing a night mail service between England and Scandinavia.

This most interesting picture, made at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, last month, shows, left to right, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettger, daughter of the President, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the First Lady, and Mrs. Sarah D. Roosevelt, the Chief Executive's mother, as they listened to the President during the notification ceremonies which closed the Democratic Party's stay in the "Quaker City."

Conflicting wireless messages from the army transport Chateau Thierry shed little light on the tragic deaths of Captain Lindsay M. Brawsel, left, army flier, and his three children. One story tells of the father giving his life in an effort to save the three children swept overboard in a storm. The other pictured the father, in a moment of derangement, leaping into the sea with the three children in his arms. At right, from the top, are Virginia, Lindsay and Robert Charles Brawsel.

(Left) Motoring demands its proper attire too, so Margaret Lindsay, the screen actress, slips on this smart frock with its streamlined shoulders and is ready for the road. The dress has three fan-shaped pleatings at the neckline.

BRIDGE NOTES

"Swing" Hands

By Ely Culbertson

In an ordinary session of rubber bridge, approximately 40 hands will be played. Of that number, unless the cards are running unusually "freakishly," well over half will be cut and dried, producing a certain number of tricks on the most ordinary play. Another 10 or 12 will offer some problem of opening lead, general defence, or dummy management. And, finally, there will be a few, sometimes only one or two, that have come to be known as the "swing" hands, deals from which large gains will accrue to the team that best rises to the emergency.

It is these crucial hands, with their demand for the utmost nicety in bidding and play, that create the true enthusiast's zest for the game. Incidentally, the final score of each player will be found to reflect, to an enormous degree, the direction in which the "swing" hands have swung!

In recent articles, I have told so many stories on myself, in which I figured as the absent-minded professor, that I may, perhaps, be pardoned for a slight digression to the always enjoyable pastime of "horn blowing." I was, for a welcome change, the hero in the hand described below.

I was South, the declarer.

West opened the nine of diamonds and East's king forced my ace. I could see that I would have no "cinch" with this hand. I knew West to be a conservative doubler, and had no doubt that I was going to find a bad break in trumps.

The diamond lead did, however,

place an important card for me:

West could not have led the nine from any combination including the jack, therefore

East must hold that card.

I entered dummy with the heart ace and finessed for the diamond jack. As I had expected, West ruffed my ten.

He then led a small heart.

When East put up the king, I no longer had any doubt as to the location of the king of clubs

—West must have it for his double, along with the trump honours.

I ruffed the heart and laid down the diamond queen. I could not afford to remove dummy's ace of clubs for another diamond finesse. West ruffed again, and again forced me in hearts. I ruffed and led the ace of trumps. Now my last diamond was led and West was trapped. If he ruffed with the king, I would discard dummy's losing club. He chose to discard a club, but this was no obstacle. I ruffed the diamond in dummy and ruffed

the fourth heart in my own hand. Then I threw West in

Cinema Notes From
The Theatres"THE SINGING KID"—QUEEN'S

Here's a "real" romance—some-thing new in movie matrimony. Here, if you please, is a marriage between a "montage" and a melody.

All of which sounds a bit complicated, but, translated from film language, it simply means that a series of swiftly interblended screen picture flashes will be accompanied by a series of quickly changing snatches of various songs. The "montage" (quickly intercut picture scenes) has been used in countless movies. The song melody is commonplace. The combining of the two is new.

"The Singing Kid" combines rollicking comedy with heart-throbbing drama and spectacular musical numbers. Besides Jolson the cast includes Sybil Jason, Beverly Roberts, Edward Everett Horton, Lyle Talbot, Allen Jenkins, Claire Dodd and Wini Shaw. The Yacht Club Boys and Cab Calloway and his band also are featured.

"FRISCO KID"—MAJESTIC
THEATRE

This picture with James Cagney and Margaret Lind-say, is set in the colourful background of the early fifties when the waterfront at the Golden Gate was a flaming panorama of gilded gambling halls and palaces of pleasure, when murder, arson, crimping and robbery were winked at by the authorities, who derived huge revenues in bribes from the denizens of the underworld.

"THE MYSTERY OF THE WAX MUSEUM"—STAR THEATRE

The picture, based on the play of Charles S. Belden, is filled with suspense and hair-raising scenes in the activity of a terrible monster that stalks through the streets of New York City and is believed to be in some way responsible for the strange disappearance of both living persons and bodies. The play was adapted by Don Mullally and Carl Erickson.

The leading persons in the cast include Lionel Atwill, Fay Wray, Glenda Farrell, Frank McHugh, Allen Vincent, Gavin Gordon, Edwin Maxwell, Holmes Herbert and Arthur Edmund Carewe. It was directed by Michael Curtiz who handled that other mystery thriller for Warner Bros., "Doctor X."

"HALF ANGEL"—KING'S

This thrilling story of a "sorrow girl" who jinxes the lives of those who love her, has Frances Dee, Brian Donlevy and Charles Butterworth in the featured roles.

A glorious blending of laughter and mystery, romance and comedy, suspense and thrills, "Half Angel" was directed by Sidney Lanfield, with Helen Westley, Henry Stephenson and Sara Haden also prominent in the cast.

Frances Dee is seen as the "Poison Queen" who is twice implicated in murder, with Donlevy cast as the daring young reporter who believes her innocent. Butterworth has one of his inimitable comedy roles as Donlevy's middle-headed, butter-fingered stooge.

Replete with sparkling dialogue, unusual romance and hilarious comedy situations that highlight the mystery, thrills and suspense, "Half Angel" was written by Bess Meredyth and Gene Fowler from a story by F. Scott Tennyson.

"IF YOU COULD ONLY COOK"
—ALHAMBRA THEATRE

This picture brings to the screen a new love team, Herbert Marshall and Jean Arthur. And it also marks Miss Arthur's initial appearance as a full-fledged star.

In "If You Could Only Cook" Marshall is seen as a disgraced millionaire. Not disgraced, because he doesn't know what to do with his money, but because he is about to marry a girl he doesn't love and who doesn't love him. And further, because his board of directors has been annoying him. Instead of getting drunk, he goes and sits in the park.

Here he meets Miss Arthur, who is scanning the want advertisements for a job. She mistakes him for another unemployed member of society and invites him to go with her to manager an advertisement for a married couple, a butler and a maid. Marshall, on the spur of the moment, accepts,

WOMAN'S NEAR
ESCAPEPilotless Aeroplane
Crashes

A two-seater monoplane belonging to the Liverpool and District Aero Club got out of control at the Hooton Aerodrome, Cheshire, while the pilot was swinging the propeller. It took the air unpiloted, circled the aerodrome twice, and then crashed and burst into flames. A young woman, who was to have been a passenger, jumped clear just in time.

and off go the millionaire and the young lady and get the job.

They find themselves working for a big-shot racketeer; Leo Carrillo plays this role.

"COLLEEN"—ORIENTAL

This picture is a rollicking musical comedy with an all-star cast including Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Jack Oakie, Joan Blondel, Hugh Herbert, Louise Fazenda and Paul Draper.

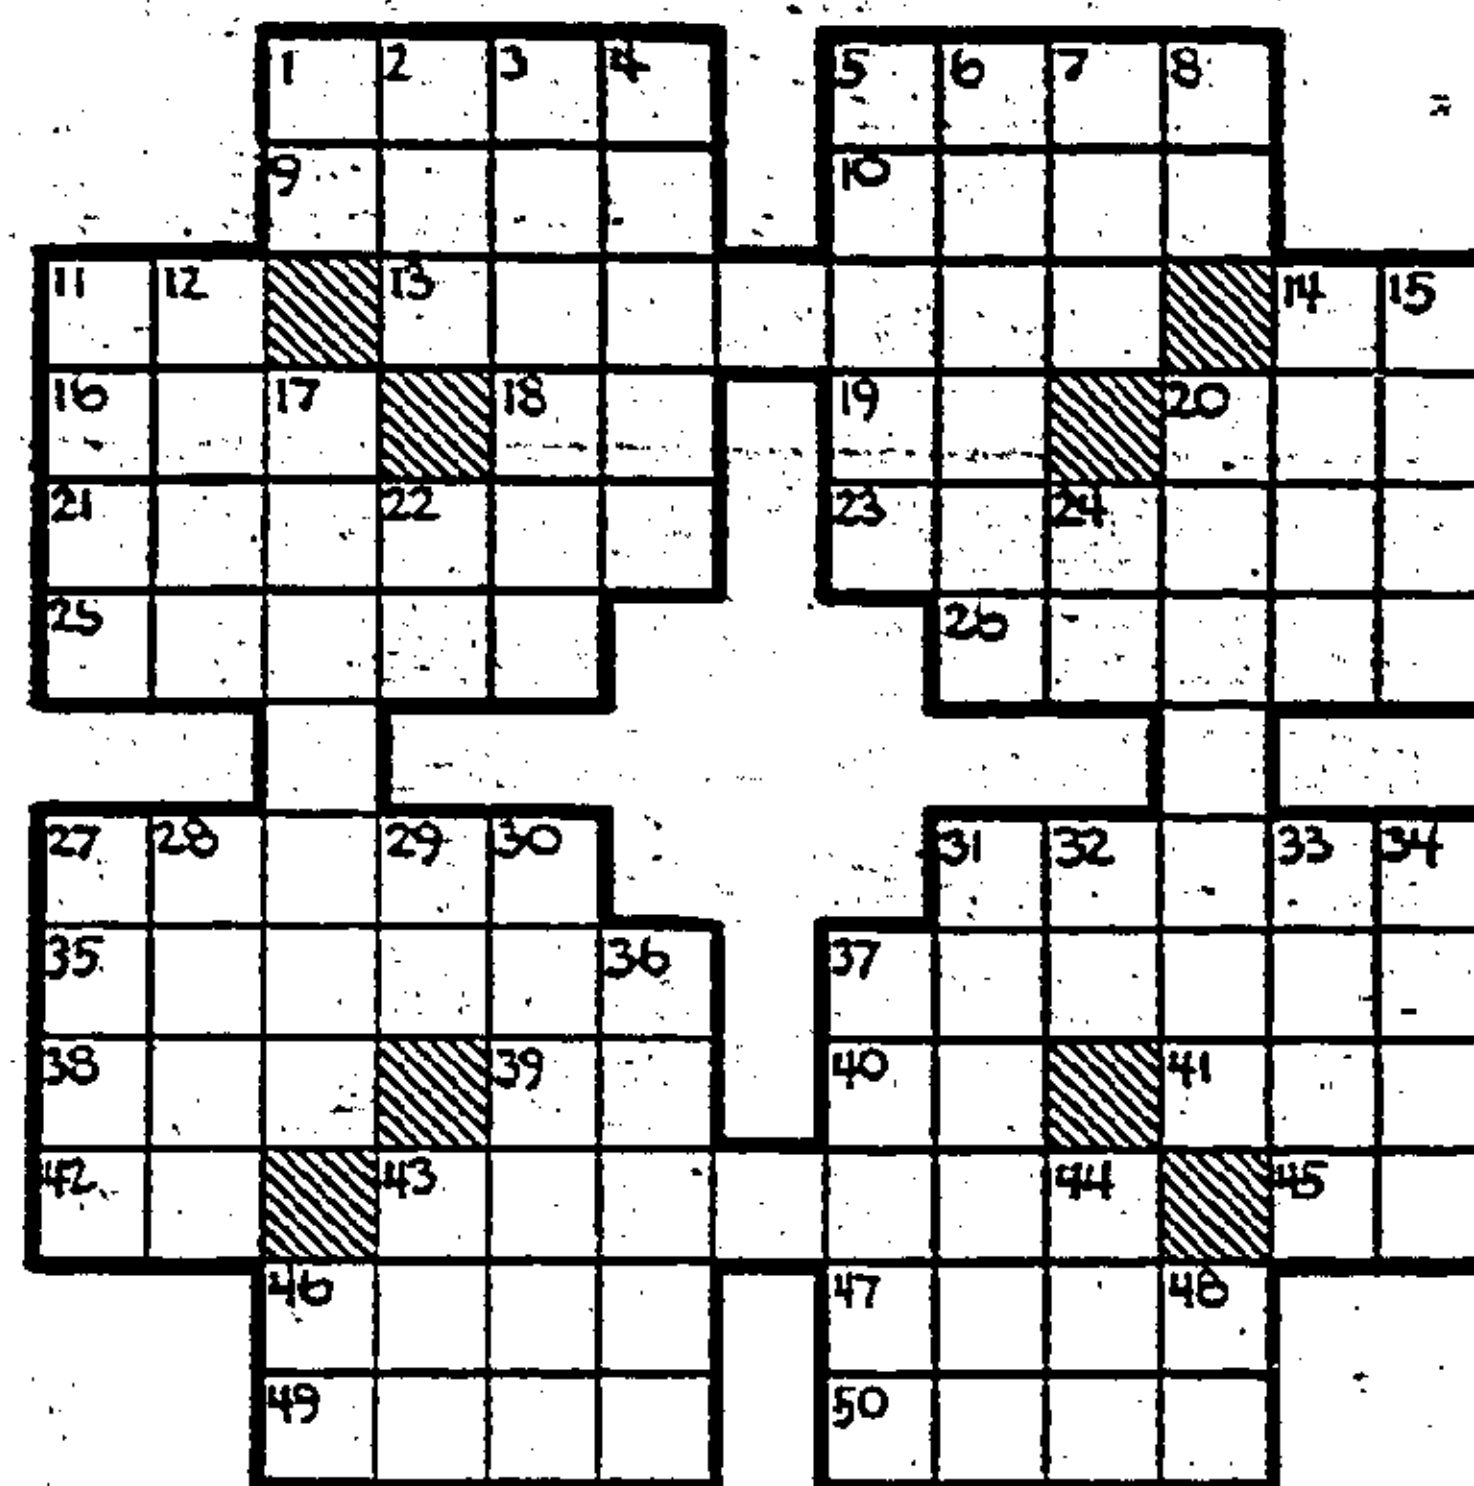

The story, written by Robert Lord, is packed with rollicking comedy, romance and a touch of real drama. There is more of a plot than in the ordinary musical, and it concerns the efforts of Powell to straighten out the business affairs of his wealthy and eccentric uncle, as well as his love scrapes. Incidentally Dick and Miss Keeler go in for some romancing and are all tied up in a score of hilarious entanglements, which are eventually straightened out in a smashing climax.

Lau Sau, aged 41, a travelling trader, was fined $15 by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday on a charge of conveying two black chow dogs from the New Territories to Kowloon without a written permit from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon.

It was stated by Sergeant Nolan that defendant was travelling in a lorry when the police stopped him. In the lorry were two baskets, one of them containing three chickens and a dog, and the other four chickens and a dog. Defendant admitted ownership of the baskets.

Defendant told the Court that he brought dogs from the New Territories into Kowloon five or six years ago and he then did not require to have permits.

The police stated that the dogs showed no signs of rabies, but one of them was very vicious and snapped at the legs of a Shantung sergeant.
